

Housing Assistance Services

The Housing Assistance Services (HAS) program helps families with a household member with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities whom are living at home navigate New York City's vast housing system.

HAS offers advocacy support, information and referrals for families seeking assistance with housing concerns.

What We Offer:

- Eviction prevention and housing court information
- Referrals for Rent Arrears
- Assistance with affordable, low-income and accessible housing
- Housing and accessibility rights education
- Advocacy for repairs

What's Needed to Apply:

In order to qualify for the Housing Assistance Services program, at least one person in the household must have a documented developmental or neurological disorder.

The person should also have OPWDD eligibility.
